

University of Toronto
Department of Philosophy

Individual Studies PHL 495H1/496H1/497H1/498H1/499H1

Individual studies courses, which involve directed study and research, are available to advanced students. Application must be made with a faculty supervisor, and approval of the Undergraduate Coordinator obtained, before registration, which takes place in the Philosophy Department, not via the Student Web Service.

Individual studies courses are best arranged between teachers and students who have already come to know each other in a regularly scheduled class and have an interest in pursuing related topics in further detail. No more than one individual studies course (viz. two half-courses) can be counted towards any philosophy program. The pre-requisite for all PHL 400-level courses is nine half-courses in philosophy.

APPLICANT INFORMATION

Student name and number:

Program of study:

E-mail address:

Phone number:

Faculty supervisor:

Supervisor's e-mail address:

Supervisor's phone number:

Project Information

Formalities

Academic Session:

Course code: PHL 49__ (5/6/7)H1__ (F/S)

Dates of meetings:

Dates of submitted work:

(please note: Individual Studies courses have no final examinations and all work is due by the last day of classes)

Scheme of evaluation:

(e.g. fortnightly tutorials and final report: 10 tutorials 60%, final report 40%)

(please see over)

Subject Matter

(attach a separate page if necessary)

Description of the problem, theme, topic or area

Reading list

Methods of Investigation

---

The individual studies course here described has been thoroughly discussed by us, and we request permission for the student to be enrolled in PHL 49__ (5/6/7) H1__ (F/S).

Student signature:

Date:

Supervisor signature:

Date:

---

approved

Undergraduate Coordinator

not approved

Date:

Signature: